

Molly thought she'd died and gone to doggie heaven.
After thirteen years of being cooped-up in an apartment, she was suddenly being picked-up and transported to this strange place with grass and trees and other friendly dogs. Molly became a star player, finding friendship in her golden years, and she didn't even have to worry about her kidneys.

Doggie Vacations

You don't have to leave your dog alone all day at home. Doggie Vacations will pick your dog up, drive her to the park and let her play with other dogs all day. We will bring her home, happy, in the late afternoon.
